

Employee Resource Groups and Networks

Connect. Lead. Influence.

Employee Resource Groups (ERGs) and Networks can play a crucial role in fostering diverse and inclusive workplaces. Organisations with effective ERGs report higher levels of inclusion and belonging.

This program examines the roles, functions and benefits of ERGs and Networks. It explores how to set up ERGs and Networks for success and provides participants with practical steps on how to build a program of activities.

This program is for organisations and participants looking to build the capabilities of their ERGs and Networks to drive impact in their organisations.

This is a 90-minute program, delivered virtually or in person.

Learning Outcomes

By the end of this session, participants will be able to:

- Understand the roles, functions and benefits of ERGs in the workplace within the organisational D&I context
- Understand how to set up successful ERGs for success, enabling them to drive impact and position them for organisational influence
- Understand the range of activities that ERGs can undertake and access to build their capability.
